SHARING ECONOMY

"It is an economic system in which goods or services are shared between private individuals, for free or for a fee, through the Internet. Thanks to the sharing economy, you can easily rent your car, your apartment, your bicycle or even your own wifi network when you are not using them".

First definition of Oxford Dictionary in 2015.

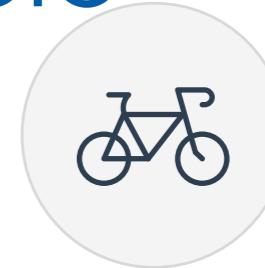

Arun Sundararajan, professor at New York University's Stern School of Business, defines it as entrepreneurship transferred to crowds
